NEAR LAST CARDS

Thought Envoys Will Play Them By Next Monday.

FINAL STRUGGLE IS THEREFORE VERY CLOSE.

Japanese in Close Touch With Their Government, but Keep Own Council.

WILL THE JAPS MEET THEIR WATERLOO?

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—Five articles of the possible "treaty of Washington" remained to be considered when the peace plenipotentiaries resumed their session at the navy yard today—Sakhalin, upon which it had been impossible to agree, and which had been passed over; indemnity, limitation upon Russia's sea power, the surrender of the interned warships, and the grant of fishing rights on the littoral of the maritime provinces.

Remuneration for the cost of the war, it is believed, is No. 9, the first article to come up today. How far it will be threshed out before it is "passed over" is problematical. Fishing rights Russia will yield. There only remain limitation upon Russia's sea power and the surrender of the interned warships.

The final struggle is close at hand, and preparations are being made for it. When the remaining points of possible agreement are demonstrated an adjournment will be taken, probably until Monday, when the plenipotentiaries will show their last cards.

The Japanese are in the closest touch with their government. They are keeping Tokyo advised of every development of the proceedings. It was 6 o'clock this morning when last night's stream of cables to Japan was completed.

Last Articles Marked Off.
Articles 7 and 8 were disposed of yesterday, the former "in principle," the latter "unanimously," according to the official bulletin. Article 7 provides for the cession to China of the branch of the Chinese Eastern railroad running south from Harbin to Port Arthur and Dalny, and with a branch line connecting at New Chwang with the Shan-Hai-Kwan-Tien Tsin road.

Article 8 provided for the retention by Russia of the line through Northern Manchuria, which forms a connecting link of the main line of the Transiberian and the Ussuri railroad, with its terminus at Vladivostok and Khabarovsk.

Russia, by her acceptance of these two articles in connection with articles 2, 3, 4 and 6, surrenders every vestige of her ambition in Manchuria. She closes the door to the warm water, ice free port of Dalny upon which she lavished her millions, and retains only as a commercial road the link of the railroad connecting her European possessions with the maritime provinces upon the Pacific. The right to police it with Russian troops of railroad guards is given up, and its protection will become the duty of China.

The Favorable Weather.

The weather since the arrival of the plenipotentiaries has strangely followed the prevailing sentiment as to the outcome. Today was bright and cheery. The sun shone gloriously. It was another page out of the wonderful weather book to which New England has treated her distinguished foreign guests. Last week the heat was unbearable, and the plenipotentiaries were testy and angry. Saturday was cold and dreary, and it looked as if a storm would break. But it did not, and the fear that negotiations would be broken off when the meeting occurred in the afternoon after the presentation of the Russian reply was happily averted. Sunday was fair and bright. Tuesday it stormed, and in the conference-room the first unsurmountable barrier appeared—the cession of Sakhalin.

Yesterday afternoon the weather cleared, and the plenipotentiaries, while returning to the hotel, were treated to the sight of a glorious New England sunset.

The peace plenipotentiaries, who have alternately sweltered and been chilled, shivered and soaked, seemed in fine spirits when they started away from the hotel today.

Most of the Japanese missions were so busy in preparing cables last night that they were, in consequence, a little behind the regular hour in getting down stairs this morning. It was close to 9:30 before Mr. Takahira, followed by Baron Komura and Mr. Sato came down to the veranda and received the usual respectful greeting from the guests who invariably gather to see them off. The Russian envoys were half-way to the navy yard when the Japanese set out.

Hopeful Prospect for Peace.

Tokio, Aug. 17.—The Nichi Nichi says: "The continuance of the conference is indicative of the hopeful prospect for the conclusion of peace."

The paper declares that if the Russians had rejected absolutely the questions of reimbursement and the cession of Sakhalin Island, the Japanese would have withdrawn from the conference. These demands are as important as the Korean and Manchurian questions. Japan's victories have been achieved by the vast sacrifice of money and blood without the prospect of Russia's compliance in the payment of war expenditures and the transfer of Sakhalin Island. There is no reason why the conference should not be continued.

The Nichi Nichi expresses the belief that the Russian delegates divulged the nature of the Japanese demands, and suggests that the Japanese delegates abandon the plan of secrecy and keep their people informed as to the progress of the conference.

JAPS MEET WATERLOO.

Have Been Defeated in Great Diplomatic Battle.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—Japan will come to terms with Russia. She will not insist upon reimbursement or the cession of Sakhalin. This is the opinion of most members of the rapidly-growing army of optimists. Russia has defeated Japan in the diplomatic battle by bringing about the discussion of all the questions which caused the war before considering the two most important of the Japanese demands. On all the original questions Russia either has yielded or will yield when the matters of reimbursement and the cession of territory are brought up.

Must Withdraw Demands.

Japan must either withdraw her demands or be placed in the position before the world of fighting for money. It is argued that she cannot do this. The moral support given her has been of inestimable value, and this war would be lost if she should enter upon a mercenary war. These considerations have convinced a great number of observers that a treaty of peace will be signed within ten days. The envoys themselves are much more cordial toward one another than they were at first. There was evidence of much ill-feeling, and during the lunch hour at the navy yard the rival diplomats of one nation ignored those of the other.

Chat and Laugh.

On one occasion Third Assistant Secretary Pearce sat in the conference room in order that the envoys might address themselves to him instead of to their rivals. Yesterday there was a remarkable change, and the plenipotentiaries chatted and laughed like old-time friends. This is regarded as one of the most hopeful signs of the times. M. Witte is certainly a very affable statesman. He speaks no English, but when he passes through the office or corridors of the Wentworth he shakes hands with every one in sight. If Witte does not win great popularity while he is here, it won't be his fault.

JUST AND LASTING PEACE.

Well-Informed Circles in Paris Beginning to Display Optimism.

Paris, Aug. 17.—Well-informed circles here display optimism relative to the outcome of the peace conference, and general satisfaction is being expressed with the progress already made. Although the fundamental questions, including the payment of the Japanese war expenses and the cession of the Island of Sakhalin, have not yet been reached, the rapidity with which the minor points have been settled leads to the belief that the conference will eventually fulfill the desire of President Roosevelt, expressed when he introduced the plenipotentiaries in the Mayflower, for "a just and lasting peace."

It is pointed out that the intercourse between M. Witte and Baron Komura during the exchange of views regarding those conditions which are already accomplished facts, owing to the effects of the military and naval operations, cannot fail to induce the plenipotentiaries to approach the more serious matters with more amicable feelings and a greater readiness to offset mutual concessions.

M. Witte, in a statement in the course of an interview to the effect that the Korean question would possibly evoke future trouble with Eu-

TILDEN'S MANSION

Its Remarkable Construction Just Revealed.

BASEMENT CHAMBERS AND FALSE ROOFS.

Surprising Discoveries Made by Workmen Remodeling House for National Arts Club.

TILDEN EVIDENTLY FEARED ENEMIES.

New York, Aug. 17.—Subterranean passages, leading from a secret staircase to austere chambers beneath the old Tilden mansion, in Gramercy Park, have been brought to light by the contractors engaged in tearing out and remodeling the structure, which is now under course of transformation into a home for the National Arts Club. Many other peculiarities exist in the mansion, which have remained undiscovered up to this day, although the famous old dwelling has housed many tenants since his removal to Greystone, in 1879, where he died in August, 1886.

There is a legend among the old-time residents of the neighborhood that Tilden, who made a host of enemies by the part he took in the exposure of the Tweed ring, had a fear of secret assassination, and builded his house accordingly.

The interior of the mansion was a work of art in its day, and is scarcely equalled in some respects even now by the palaces of Upper Fifth avenue. In the work of remodeling now under way the secret staircase and underground passages were discovered. As the builders, like Mr. Tilden, long since joined their fathers, no explanation can be given for the mysterious passages other than that mentioned by old neighbors.

It was found that the building had three floors instead of one, and that a tiny staircase led to a secret passage from the second floor. Entrance to it was gained by pressing a knob on a beautifully carved walnut panel.

In the cellar a puzzling labyrinth of vaults and passages was found leading to a tunnel, the walls of which are covered with mold, but which was otherwise perfectly dry. The tunnel, so far as it could be explored, led straight south from the mansion, but its terminus evidently had been closed for many years, and the air was found so bad that the wreckers have not ventured more than twenty-five feet into the passage.

PUNISHMENT FOR ALARMIST.

Mobile Citizen Fined for Starting Yellow Fever Reports.

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 17.—C. W. Cowart, a well known citizen, was today convicted in the recorder's court on the charge of circulating false rumors of yellow fever in Mobile. He was fined $15 or thirty days in jail. Cowart had made the statement that yellow fever existed in Mobile, and also that quarantine guards could be bought for a flask of whisky. He could prove neither charge.

United Verde copper mines of Jerome, Ariz., for a controlling interest in which Senator Clark of Montana paid $26,800, now earns for its owners $600,000 a month, says William E. Curtis.

European powers having interests there, caused a slight stir. The French government is not likely, however, to express an opinion on the subject until the full effect of the Japanese protectorate becomes known. When the peace treaty has been finally ratified and its terms officially communicated, France will doubtless take steps to protect its interests.

The Bourse exhibits a strong optimistic spirit regarding the facts that the negotiations were not interrupted when the Russian reply was presented as evidence that the conference is likely to terminate with the signing of a treaty.

Commenting upon the results so far obtained by the conference, the Temps says: "All who believe that peace is necessary to both Russia and Japan, and that the whole world can only gain by the permanent disappearance of the cause of conflict and the danger to the general peace, must rejoice at the existing disposition shown. All difficulties have not yet been overcome, but both sides display a desire to approach them with good will."

SCIENCE IS VICTOR

Yellow Jack Being Gradually Routed.

DISCREPANCY IN REPORTS EXPLAINED.

Discovery of Disease in Mississippi Town Will Have Effect on Quarantining.

LATEST REPORTS FROM INFECTED PLACES.

New Orleans, Aug. 17.—The yellow fever situation was featureless today except for the explanation of the discrepancy in the death report in the preceding twenty-four hours. The number at noon was given as five. At 6 o'clock it was given as four. Five deaths actually occurred, but the certificates in an uptown case were turned in after the record was closed, and will therefore go in today's list, making three deaths above Canal street in the last three weeks.

Some of the Mississippi coast towns have been seeking to increase the rigidity of their quarantine so as to prevent the handling of any freight from New Orleans and to require thorough freight to be carried in specially sealed and fumigated cars. The appearance of fever on the coast, however, may cause a change of heart, now that it is known that section is actually infected.

A movement was on foot here for an extensive flushing of the gutters which has been always done in yellow fever times. The health authorities, however, are of the opinion that flushing gutters will leave pools in which mosquitoes will hibernate, and instead of flushing the gutters will be treated with rock salt.

Dr. Juan Guiteras is to deliver a lecture on the mosquito and the experiences of Havana at a woman's league meeting arranged for Friday night.

NEST OF YELLOW FEVER.

Eleven Cases Reported From Mississippi City.

New Orleans, Aug. 17.—The announcement of the discovery of a nest of eleven cases of yellow fever at Mississippi City, within three miles of Gulfport, the terminus of the Gulf & Ship Island road, and the fact that the fever has been in existence there since before July 20, the time when its announcements were made here, is expected to soften somewhat the severe criticism by Mississippians of New Orleans for failing to find the local infection earlier. Before it was known that there was fever here there were frequent reports of its existence on the gulf coast, but the inspection has been so rigid along the coast for a month past by the Alabama, Mississippi and the federal authorities that the denial of fever at Mississippi City or elsewhere was accepted.

The family in which the fever first appeared at Mississippi City arrived there from New Orleans July 2, and the fever is stated to have been in Mississippi since the 20th. The family is that of Major Goe, of Carrollton, Miss which stopped a week in New Orleans on their way to Mississippi City. There are now eleven cases, only one of which is seriously ill. Troops have drawn a cordon around the infected sections, and every effort will be made by Surgeon Washdin, of the Marine hospital service, to confine the disease. All the towns on the gulf coast, as well as the towns on the Gulf & Ship Island road, have slapped on quarantines.

Public Favorably Impressed.

The relatively insignificant number of deaths in the past twenty-four hours, at a time when it was expected that there would be some increase over the maximum figures already reported, made a fine impression on the local public, confirming the frequently expressed view that the disease is losing its virulence in contact with modern forms of treatment. Of the 19 new squares infected 12 are immediately adjoining squares previously reported infected, showing the very slight spread of the disease. A list of 18 suspicious cases reached the Marine hospital officers after the report closed, and were under investigation today. A fine showing was made by the physicians, 47 of the 66 cases being reported from their private practice. Ten more were reported by the Emergency hospital. Twenty-two of the cases were in the originally infected section. Only 5 new foci were above Canal street, three adjoining squares already infected.

Gov. Blanchard has wired Chairman Janvier, of the citizens' committee, announcing that he has complimented Surgeon White by making him a colonel on his staff.

"Tell him," the governor wired, "that it gives me great pleasure to show him this recognition as a token of appreciation of the great fight he is making for us in New Orleans."

The Quarantine Furor.

Some of the quarantines are tightening and some are loosening. Lafayette, which was very severe in her restrictions against New Orleans, now finds herself practically isolated because there is one case there. Crowley has called out her militia to guard all the avenues of approach to the town. St. Francisville announces that she will bar from her midst all drummers and Italians. The city council of Lake Charles, in defiance of the state board of health, has declared that no freight-car can enter that town from New Orleans or other infected points, whether authorized by the state board or not.

Demand for Wire Screen.

In Donaldsonville, which has a large Italian population, there has been a mass meeting of Italians which has pledged the race to co-operation with the authorities in guarding against infection.

Large quantities of wire screen are now being brought into the city for the purpose of screening cisterns. The screen is so urgently needed that there is no time to ship it by freight and the express companies are bringing it in daily lots of from eight to ten thousand pounds. Cheesecloth screening was a temporary makeshift and is not provided for in the city ordinance. The fact that there is a supply of wire screen here will enable the authorities to prosecute successfully all landlords who disobey the ordinance.

The school authorities here and elsewhere in Louisiana are as yet undecided as to whether an attempt will be made to open the public schools on the dates originally set. Their decision will be determined by the course which the fever takes within the next fifteen to thirty days.

Scare in New York.

New York, Aug. 17.—A yellow fever scare was caused yesterday in First avenue, Brooklyn, where a doctor summoned to a tenement found John G. Murphy, a laborer, violently ill. In a lucid moment he said he came from Panama a few weeks ago. At the Norwegian hospital the physicians agreed that Murphy had a mild case of yellow fever. The health department was notified and its agent reported that he found certain symptoms of typhoid malaria and had grave suspicions that his fellow physicians were right in their opinions that Murphy has yellow fever. He ordered Murphy placed in an isolated ward. An effort will be made to find out what steamer brought the man here.

MRS. WORTH HOLCOMB DEAD.

Expired Yesterday Forenoon After Several Weeks' Illness.

Yesterday forenoon at 10:30 o'clock after a serious illness of several weeks Mrs. Mary Holcomb, wife of Mr. Worth Holcomb, died at the family residence, 523 South Fifth street. The deceased was aged 25 years, and with her husband had been a resident of Paducah several years. She was a member of the First Baptist church and was held in high esteem by all friends. In addition to her husband Mrs. Holcomb leaves a daughter aged six years and a son aged four years, and relatives in Mayfield and also in Bowling Green, some of whom are expected to attend the funeral.

The funeral will occur this (Friday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Services at the house conducted by Rev. Mr. Cheek, pastor of the First Baptist church. Interment in Oak Grove cemetery.

AWAITS FATHER'S ANSWER.

Alice Roosevelt Is Undecided About Visiting the Chinese Empress.

Manila, Aug. 17.—The Governor General of Hong Kong has invited Secretary of War Taft and the members of his party to attend a banquet. The members of the party have answered that they will stay one day at Hong Kong and one night at Canton.

Miss Alice Roosevelt is undecided as to whether she will visit the Chinese Empress at Peking, and it is believed that she is awaiting her father's answer to the invitation extended her to visit that place.

—Quite a crowd went on the Dick Fowler last night to the Tennessee river bridge. The excursion was under the auspices of the Tenth-street Christian church.

VACANCY IS FILLED

Chas. Crow Appointed Coroner By Judge Lightfoot.

SERVES UNTIL AFTER NOVEMBER ELECTION.

Mysterious Disappearance of Moscoe Scott Creating Great Fear As to His Fate.

NEW INVESTMENT COMPANY ORGANIZED.

Mr. Charles Crow was yesterday appointed coroner by Judge R. F. Lightfoot, to fill out the unexpired term of his father, the late James F. Crow.

Mr. Charles Crow will now hold the office of coroner until one is elected at the November election and qualifies, as his father was only filling out the unexpired term of "Daddy" Peal by appointment. As the late Mr. Crow was the democratic nominee for that office, the Democratic committee will have to have the vacancy, on the ticket filled by either calling a primary election or mass convention.

There was a large bunch of applications for the appointment, but Judge Lightfoot did not consider any one but the son of Mr. J. F. Crow for the place.

Still Unsolved.

The mysterious disappearance of Moscoe Scott from his home in Mechanicsburg on Clements street is yet unsolved. His wife returned yesterday from Little Cypress, where she went in hopes of locating him at the home of her relatives, but no trace of him was discovered. No person, as is so far learned, has seen him since late Monday afternoon, when he was near the Island creek bridge. No trace for his sudden leave is yet known. He had been ill for several days from being overheated, and it is thought that the stroke so affected his mind that he unconsciously walked away, or perhaps made away with himself.

Mrs. Scott and the absent man's friends are fearing the worst when the mystery of Mr. Scott's whereabouts is solved.

Sanitary and Street Notes.

The Board of Public Works has named Auditor Alex Kirkland and Secretary Saunders Fowler as local delegates to attend the League of American Municipalities, which convenes in Toledo, O., on the 23d, 24th and 25th of this month.

The Board, in response to the many kicks regarding the street surrounding the market-house being used for trash, water refuse, etc., has authorized Market Master Smedley to have warrants issued against any person throwing such articles on the brick streets. The street hucksters will also have to cease throwing melon rinds and decayed vegetables on the street.

The city is waiting to hear from the street car company as to what they intend to do regarding paying a portion of the expense to put in a concrete fill on the car line near the union depot.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company has been requested by the board of public works to put gravel on the street near their tracks on First and Second streets.

New Investment Company.

The Columbia Investment Company is the name of a new organization that will shortly be created in Paducah. The purpose of the concern is to deal in real estate and securities.

Articles of incorporation will be filed some time in September with a capital stock of $5,000 or more. The stockholders of the company will be Dr. J. Q. Taylor, L. M. Rieke, Jr., Wallace Weil, C. W. Thompson, Douglas and Emmett Bagby, Harry Hank, Henry Diehl and others.

A Scary But Harmless Runaway.

The white pony belonging to the Robertson Ice Company ran away with a delivery wagon yesterday afternoon, but no material damage resulted. The animal started from Third and Washington streets and ran to Robertson's office, on Lower Broadway. At the corner of Second and Broadway the horse in making a quick turn fell and shoved along the street head over heels. Several vehicles were struck in the horses mad run, but nothing serious is reported.

PUBLIC EXHIBIT

NEW THEORY ADVANCED IN NEW YORK POLICE CIRCLES

To Reduce Crime, the Idea Is to Return to the Old-Time Stocks.

New York, Aug. 17.—Public exhibition in the streets of well-known criminals under arrest is the latest theory advanced in the theory, founded as it is on that of the old-time stocks will be successful if adhered to, is the opinion of all who have heard it.

Acting Captain McCauley, in charge of the detective bureau, brought up the matter at police headquarters, when nine men, arrested the day before in a supposed wire-tapping game, were marched before the detective force. From police headquarters the prisoners were taken to the West Side court for a hearing. To the men in charge of them he said:

"On your way to court take these men up Broadway and show them as much as possible to all persons in the street. Let everybody see them, and if anyone asks who they are tell all about them. Say they are confidence men and wire-tappers; tell their names and give all the information you have about them."

Captain McCauley said that, under the present system by which criminals find loopholes through which to escape the law, he thought prevention better than cure, and that prevention could best be obtained by allowing all persons to become familiar with the names and faces of criminals, so that all would learn to avoid them.

On the way to the West Side court, Captain McCauley's orders were well carried out. The distance was too great to be walked, so the patrol wagon carrying them was slowly driven up Broadway. Whenever it was compelled to stop from congestion of traffic, full information about the prisoners was given to all inquirers.

Magistrate Mayo held the men in $500 bail each for further examination. This was on the request of Acting Captain Schulum, of the West Forty-seventh street station, who made the arrest. He told the court this detectives were confident they could connect these men with a series of wire-tapping swindles which recently had netted losses amounting to many thousands of dollars to a few victims.

PLOT TO GAIN MILLION BY MURDER AND FRAUD.

Milwaukee Woman Seeks Valuable Estate Left by Father.

Milwaukee, Aug. 17.—Mrs. Frank G. Curtis, of this city, is said to be in Colorado with her mother, unearthing what she claims to be a conspiracy to murder and commit fraud. The victim was the father of Mrs. Curtis, one John Murphy, who was the owner of valuable properties in that state in the '90s. Murphy left his wife with two children in Chicago, and she was taken back to her home in Nova Scotia by her father. In 1871 she received word of her husband's death and letters from Colorado saying the property he left was of little value and advising her not to come West. Soon after Mrs. Murphy married a man named Woodman. Some time later, it is said, an investigation disclosed that shortly after Murphy's death a man and woman, posing as Murphy and his wife, went to lawyers in New York and had his properties transferred to others, and to be now living and of national prominence. Murphy, it is stated, always had a bodyguard with him, for fear of being killed. Six years ago one of these guards, then a young man, died at Truckee, Nev. In his strong box were found many of Murphy's papers, including a will leaving all his estate to his two daughters and parents, and showing that he was a millionaire. There also was memoranda of large deposits of money with the Wells-Fargo people. Many of the people implicated are now prominent in politics and social life in the West.

HURT IN ST. LOUIS STORM.

Sudden Darkness Is Followed by Destructive Gale of Wind.

St. Louis, Aug. 17.—A score of persons were injured more or less seriously in this city and East St. Louis Wednesday in a violent wind and rain storm which followed ten minutes of sudden darkness. Many were injured by falling roofs, and one person was hurt in a stairway crush during a panic in an office building. The wind caused widespread damage.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 17.—Three children of Enos Adkins, of Ranger, were drowned and great damage to property was done in that section by storms and floods Tuesday night.

After searching for nine years over three continents for the murderer of his father, an Italian finds on Blackwell's Island, New York, the man he believes to have committed the crime.

SLAIN ON RAIL

DEATH REAPS HARVEST IN DISASTERS DURING THE YEAR 1904.

Interesting Statistics From Annual Report of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Ten thousand and forty-six persons were killed and 84,155 injured on the railways of the United States during 1904. Of the killed 441 and of the injured 9,111 were passengers, or one killed out of every 1,622,267 carried, and one injured out of every 78,523 carried.

These figures are given in the annual report of the interstate commerce commission for 1904, issued Wednesday. The report shows that at the end of 1904 there were 207,073 miles of railroad in the United States owned by 2,104 railway corporations. Of this number 1,086 maintained operating accounts, 848 being classed as independent operating roads and 238 as subsidiary roads. During the year companies owning 5,600 miles of line were reorganized, merged, consolidated, etc. The length of mileage operated by receivers June 30, 1904, was 1,323 miles. The number of roads in the hands of receivers was 28, and at the close of the previous year 27.

Increase in Equipment.

There were in the service of the railways 46,743 locomotives, the increase being 2,872. The total number of cars, exclusive of those owned by private companies, was 1,798,561, an increase of 45,172. Of these 39,752 were in the passenger service and 1,692,194 in the freight work. Practically all of the passenger locomotives and cars were equipped with air brakes and automatic couplers. The same was true of freight cars.

The number of persons on the pay rolls June 30, 1904, was 1,266,121, or 611 per 100 miles of line. The wages and salaries for the year amounted to $817,598,810.

ROCKEFELLER PARADES BAREFOOTED ON LAWN.

Oil King, Clad Only in Bathrobe, Tries the Kneipp Cure.

Cleveland, Aug. 17.—John D. Rockefeller has decided to try the Kneipp cure. After science and medicine have failed to restore his health, he has turned to nature for relief, and on Wednesday he took his first "treatment."

It was soon, after dawn, when the lawn was still wet with dew, that Mr. Rockefeller was seen to come from the kitchen door of his Forest Hill home. Around his form he drew a bathrobe and shivered as the chill morning air toyed about his bare feet. Plunging boldly on, Mr. Rockefeller walked over the grass, apparently not caring who saw him. Possibly he thought that the early hour would prevent curious eyes from prying, but he neglected to count on the milkman, the news carrier and a few belated pedestrians, who stopped on their way to witness the spectacle.

Although Mr. Rockefeller was once a barefooted boy, his feet had long grown tender by their incasement in modern footwear, and he was heard once or twice to murmur "Ouch!" as he stepped upon rough places. This convinced the interested spectators that Mr. Rockefeller was not walking in his sleep, as was suggested by a cabman who stopped to witness the performance.

After half an hour's vigorous exercise Mr. Rockefeller returned to his room. Beads of perspiration stood on his brow and his face was a ruddy color. He appeared in excellent spirits and seemed to enjoy the exercise.

DUNNE PROPOSES TO BUILD NEW LINES.

Chicago Mayor Has Plan for Independent Traction System.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Mayor Dunne has placed before the local transportation committee his plan for an independent traction system to cost $25,000,000 to be built on contract by friendly financiers and run by trustees until paid for with 5 per cent interest by its own earnings or by the city.

Preparing to urge the breaking off of negotiations with the present companies, and the construction of the independent line at once, the mayor professed confidence he would be upheld by the committee.

Chairman Werner made a statement concerning the last conference between the mayor and the traction officials, which he attended. He declared there apparently was no basis on which it was possible for the mayor and the companies to make further progress in negotiations.

KING TO MEET EMPEROR.

Meeting Between Edward and William Has Been Arranged.

New York, Aug. 17.—An interview between Emperor William and King Edward will take place when the King is returning home after the cure in Marienbad, says a Times dispatch from Berlin. The interview is said by the correspondent to have been arranged through the friendly offices of Emperor Francis Joseph.

DISCRIMINATION

IS THE VERDICT OF THE KENTUCKY RAILROAD COMMISSION

Against the I. C. L. & N. and L. & H. & St. L. Roads—Investigation Is to Be Asked

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 17.—The state railroad commission has recommended that the petition of the citizens of Henderson and Owensboro, containing complaint against the Louisville & Nashville, Illinois Central, Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis, be referred to the interstate commerce commission. The complaint is based on the allegation that rates given by these roads discriminate against Owensboro and Henderson in favor of Evansville.

In its brief of the case the railroad commission says in part:

"The commission is of the opinion that defendants are violating the fourth section of the act to regulate interstate commerce, in that they, in connection with the Cumberland Gap Dispatch and their various connecting carriers, notably, the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern; the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville; the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, and the Pennsylvania railroads, charge, collect and receive greater compensation for the transportation of freight to and from New York, N. Y.; Boston, Mass.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Baltimore, Md.; Richmond, Va.; Norfolk, Va., and all other points, taking same rates to and from Owensboro and Henderson, Ky., than that charged for similar services to and from Evansville, Ind., on a like kind of traffic, under substantially similar circumstances and conditions for the short haul to and from Owensboro and Henderson, Ky., than that charged to and from Evansville, Ind., a greater distance over the same lines and in the same direction, the shorter being included, within the longer distance. The commission is further of the opinion that the said defendants and said connecting carriers are violating Sections 1, 2 and 3 of said act to regulate commerce, in that the adjustment of rates and the amounts charged, collected and received for the transportation of commodities to and from said points to Evansville, Ind., and Owensboro and Henderson, Ky., are a discrimination in favor of said Evansville, Ind., as against said cities of Owensboro and Henderson, Ky., and in that the rate charged, collected and received for the transportation of commodities to and from both Trunk Line and Central Freight Association Territory are in and of themselves unjust and unreasonable and unjustly discriminate against Owensboro and Henderson, and give to Evansville and territory contiguous thereto and undue and unreasonable preference and advantage."

FIRST VISIT IN 20 YEARS.

Rev. Pender Visits Old Home—Young Man Loses His Roll.

Rev. J. T. Pender, of Pittsburg, Pa., has been in the city a day or so visiting his old friends, says the Mayfield Messenger. He came to this country about thirty years ago and was among the first ministers of the Episcopal Methodist church that ever came down into this country. He was a brilliant young preacher and made many friends for himself in those days whose friendship has lasted until the present.

Twenty-nine years ago, he engaged in a religious debate at Benton with the Rev. W. L. Butler, of the Christian church. Since that time he has spent many years in the West and other places and is now one of the most gifted platform lecturers on the stage. He has charge of fine church in Pittsburg, but thinks he will perhaps take charge of a church in Cincinnati before the end of the year.

Mr. Vic Allen, son of Mr. Gabe Allen, of this city, left here a few days ago for California. He left with over $200 in cash, and railroad passes from here to his destination. Before he had gone half his journey, he was robbed of his money and railroad transportation, and was left stranded between here and there.

INSURANCE CONTROL.

Roosevelt Discusses Federal Regulation With Senator Dryden.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Federal court supervision of life insurance companies was discussed at a conference between President Roosevelt, Senator Dryden of New Jersey, and James M. Beck, attorney for the Mutual Life Insurance Company. Senator Dryden said he and Mr. Beck had come to Oyster Bay in the hope of devising a plan whereby his measure pending in the Senate may be enacted into a law in some form.

While no official announcement was made, there is ample authority for the statement that President Roosevelt will discuss the question of insurance in his forthcoming message to congress in the light of developments in the last six months. That he will recommend the enactment of legislation providing for federal supervision of interstate insurance there is no room for doubt. This would be in line with the recommendations of his last message.

THE HORSE SHOW

FURTHER ARRANGEMENTS MADE TO CARRY IDEA INTO EFFECT.

The Exhibitions Will Occur at Night, With Matinees, at the Baseball Park.

The promoters and directors of the horse show to be held here in October met last night in the office of the Commercial club and elected the various committees for the approaching event.

The meeting was marked with enthusiasm on the part of each person present, and with the feeling that was prevalent there is no doubt but what the horse show will be a grand and glorious success.

The executive committee selected was as follows: J. M. Lang, George C. Wallace, A. J. Decker and Richard Rudy.

Those who were selected on the committee to prepare a program for the meeting were: J. M. Lang, chairman; John W. Keiler, O. L. Gregory and Richard Rudy.

Tom Lovelace is corresponding secretary and Ben Frank recording secretary. There will be a number of other committees selected, but the two named are most important and will have charge of the different matters pertaining to the show until the program has been arranged and presented to the members of the association, and this will be done at the meeting next Thursday night.

It was decided to select three young ladies from each of the surrounding towns to act as sponsors and assist the lady members of the city in doing all they can to draw a large crowd, besides they will assist in the entertainment of visitors.

The horse show will last two days and will be held at the baseball park. All the performances will take place at night with the exception of matinees for the children in the afternoon.

Special seats will be constructed to accommodate the people as it is thought that the present seating capacity on the grounds will be inadequate to accommodate the enormous throng that is anticipated.

Electric lights will be arranged on the grounds so as to have plenty of light.

As soon as the program has been prepared and accepted the advertising committee will begin to advertise the big horse show very extensively.

MOROCCAN RUMOR

ANNOYING TO FRANCE WHICH GROWS MORE RESTLESS.

Loan Negotiated With Sultan Revives Feeling That Serious Difficulty May Follow.

London, Aug. 17.—Germany's official announcement from Fez that the contract for a loan negotiated with the Sultan under the auspices of Count Tattenbach-Ashold, the head of the German Mission to Fez, has been signed, revives the feeling in London that Germany and France may yet get into serious difficulty over Morocco. It is noted that French opinion is becoming daily more restless, owing to rumors of German aggression. Englishmen think that the situation demands an official avowal of the Kaiser's policy. They fear that unless Germany shortly gives some proof of fidelity to the letter and spirit of the agreement of July 8, which contemplated an international solution of the Moroccan question within certain limits, France will lose confidence in the good faith of Berlin, as Japan finally lost confidence in the good faith of St. Petersburg, and that then the French government, after the fashion of the Japanese government, "will take independent action to safeguard its interests."

Do Not Admit Claims.

Englishmen do not admit the claim that the proposed loan is purely a private matter. They contend that when German bankers lend money to the Sultan of Morocco on the security of landed estates the transaction inevitably carries German politics into Morocco, and gives the Fatherland a position in that empire inconsistent with all Germany's official utterances on the subject. Englishmen also refuse to accord validity to the German assertion that the negotiations now culminating began before the agreement of July 8 was concluded. They take the ground that if the Kaiser's purposes are really pacific, as he has taken pains to assure Europe they are, he should call a halt in the proceedings in Morocco, which seem to suggest an attempt to confront the international conference with accomplished facts favorable to Germany's case before the conferees.

President Roosevelt, in a letter to the convention of the National Negro Business League in New York, says self-help is the hope of the black man and the solution of the race problem.

NOTICE OF SALE

BY UNITED STATES SPECIAL COMMISSIONER SEPT. 11.

In the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western District Of Kentucky.

People's Bank of Wilkesbarre, Pa., Trustee, Complainant,

VS. People's Independent Telephone Company, Defendant.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to and by virtue of a decree in the above entitled cause, by the above entitled court, Hon. Walter Evans, Judge, dated July 3, 1905, I, the undersigned, Special Commissioner, will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, upon the terms hereinafter stated, at the county court house door, in McCracken county, state of Kentucky, in the city of Paducah, at noon on the 11th day of September, 1905, the same being the first day of the McCracken county court, as an entirety and as one property, and not in separate parcels, all and singular the property of the defendant, said People's Independent Telephone company, hereinafter more specifically described and all the right, title, interest and equity of redemption of said People's Independent Telephone Co., in and to said property, described as follows, to-wit:

Being all the property, real and personal, and wheresoever situated, of said People's Independent Telephone Co., being party of the first part, whether in possession, remainder or reversion, or in action, and now owned or hereafter to be acquired, all the telephones, telephone lines, telephone exchanges and systems, now belonging to or hereafter to be acquired by said Telephone company under its present or any future corporate powers; all franchises, granted by the city of Paducah, Ky., privileges, rights, easements, licenses, poles, wires, conduits, cables, batteries, switchboards, apparatus, appliances, tools, implements, material, supplies, office furniture and fixtures now owned or hereafter to be acquired by said telephone company; all other machinery equipment to and chattel property of every kind and nature, used in connection with its telephone exchanges and systems and now owned or hereafter to be acquired by said telephone company, and all its tolls, rents, income, choses in action, claims and demands of every kind and description, now owned by it or hereafter to be acquired; and including not only all its property and rights of every kind in the city of Paducah, county of McCracken, in the state of Kentucky, but all its property right and rights, real, personal and mixed, tangible and intangible, wheresoever situated, now owned or hereafter to be acquired.

Also the property known as the Alexander system of telephones, same being lines, exchanges and poles in the counties of Crittenden, Union, Webster, Lyon and Livingston, in the state of Kentucky; and also the following extensions of lines, from the city of Paducah to the Marshall county line in Kentucky, and to Lone Oak, in McCracken county, and to Smithland, in Livingston county, Kentucky, including submarine cable across Tennessee river.

Also the following described real estate with improvements thereon, situated in Paducah, Ky., on the east side of South Fifth street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue, formerly Court street, described as follows:

(Beginning at a point in the east line of Fifth street, one hundred and seventy-three feet and three inches (173 ft. 3 in.) from the southeast corner of Fifth and Broadway streets, running thence at right angles from Fifth street and towards Fourth street, one hundred and seventy-two feet, thence southwardly towards Court street, and at a right angle, thirty-one feet to the division line or fence between said lot and the lot occupied by the public school building; thence along said line and in a westwardly direction one hundred and seventy-two feet to Fifth street, thence with the line of Fifth street thirty-one feet to the beginning point, together with all the rights, title and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in any way appertaining. Being the same property conveyed to it by J. W. Campbell and James Campbell by deed dated the 4th day of July, 1902, and duly acknowledged and delivered to the defendant company on the 17th day of July, 1902, and recorded on the 28th day of July, 1902, in McCracken county court clerk's office.

The terms and conditions of this sale are as follows, that is to say:

Said sale to be conducted and made according to the rules and practice of and subject to confirmation by this court, and to satisfy the amounts due and to become due as in said decree provided for amounting to $252,625.00 with interest from the 1st day of July, 1905, at 5 per cent. The purchaser or purchasers may use and apply in making payment of the purchase price any of the outstanding bonds or over-due coupons, secured by said mortgage in said decree mentioned, in a manner and to the extent as in said decree provided and such other judgment as the court may hereinafter make; provided, however, that no original bid will

Thousands of Women ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that It Really Does Make Sick Women Well

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatments for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished its widespread results for good?

Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructive ever discovered to act directly upon the uterine system, positively curing disease and displacements and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration, or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Anyway, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

be accepted at said sale for less than $75,000.00 and unless the purchaser shall, when the property is struck down to him, at once pay and deliver to said commissioner on account of his purchase, the sum of $5,000.00 in a certified check, payable to John R. Puryear, clerk of said court. And the remainder of said purchase money shall, within twenty days from the confirmation of said sale, or such further time as the court may allow on application of the purchaser for good cause shown, complete the payment of the entire amount of the purchase money. Said special commissioner will then make, execute and deliver to said purchaser or purchasers a deed to said properties as in said decree provided, the plaintiff and the People's Independent Telephone company to execute and deliver, under the direction of the said special commissioner, the conveyances executed by them respectively, by way of confirmation and for the insurance of title to the purchaser or purchasers, this, its or their assigns, of all and singular, the mortgage property and premises and every part and parcel thereof, of every kind and description and wherever situated, hereby directed to be sold by said commissioner; and a lien will be retained in said deeds to further secure the payment of the unpaid purchase price.

In witness whereof I hereunto sign my hand this 8th day of July, 1905. EMMET W. BAGBY, Special Commissioner. CAMPBELL & CAMPBELL, Solicitors for Complainant.

DEATH IN THE ALPS.

Five Tourists Perish While Attempting Ascents.

Innsbruck, Austrian Tyrol, Aug. 17.—No less than five Alpine fatalities were recorded yesterday. Two tourists from Milan, while hunting for Edelweiss, were killed on the Paulegal, in the Zillertal Alps.

While climbing the Hoefate group a Bavarian lawyer fell and was killed. Four students from Dresden, who were ascending the Hohergoll, fell down a precipice. One was killed and the others probably were fatally injured.

Another youth of sixteen was killed on Mount Mythenstock. He fell 900 feet and his body was reduced to a pulp.

RESCUED FROM POOR HOUSE.

J. T. Roplee's Niece Did It in "I-Told-You-So" Style.

New York, Aug. 17.—J. T. Roplee, an aged broker, said to have been once worth $500,000, and who recently obtained refuge in the Westchester poor house after having lived up his fortune, was rescued yesterday by a stylishly-dressed woman who said she was his niece. The woman told the officials that she had made arrangements to keep him for the remainder of his days.

"My uncle has no excuse for being in the poor house," said she. "If he had taken care of his money he could now be living in a mansion on Fifth avenue."

GROWS IN FAVOR

PROPOSED CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL MONUMENT IS POPULAR MOVE.

Now Hope Is to Increase the Amount First Suggested and Have Handsome Stone.

Dr. D. G. Murrell, chairman of the soliciting committee to obtain funds for the erection of a monument to be dedicated to the Confederate men and women, stated yesterday that nothing has yet been done regarding it. However, before many days he will call a meeting of the committee when suggestions will be heard regarding the best plans to be devised to raise the necessary amount.

The Daughters of the Confederacy of the city have in their treasury about $300, which they propose to turn over to the committee for the memorial fund.

It has been decided that a more costly and elaborate monument will be erected than to cost $1,000; as was first determined upon. Adjutant Jno. V. Grief, of J. T. Walbert Camp of the U. C. V., stated yesterday that the size of the monument would depend entirely on the amount of funds obtained. "If we succeed in getting $2,000, of course a monument to cost that much will be built," said Mr. Grief.

There is scarcely doubt but what any reasonable amount can be secured without any extra exertion. The soliciting committee which is composed of the following, will leave no stone unturned to secure a handsome amount: Dr. D. G. Murrell, chairman; J. E. Potter, Joe Ullman, B. H. Scott, R. M. Myles, Dr. J. R. Coleman, Geo. C. Wallace, Saunders Fowler and Ed. P. Noble.

Paducah should have a very fine monument, considering the number of people who enlisted and the prominent part Paducah took in the civil war.

FOR "DUAL TARIFF."

Reciprocity Supporters Will Hereafter Contend.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—"Dual tariff" in all probability is the war cry that will ring through the United States for some years to come instead of the familiar call for reciprocity.

The new slogan means the passage of a "maximum and minimum" tariff law, permitting the establishment of reciprocal trade relations with friendly foreign countries by vote of congress.

Alvin H. Sanders, chairman of the executive committee of the national reciprocity conference, which opened its two days' session at the Illinois theater this morning, is credited with originating the war cry. Mr. Sanders broached his suggestion to a few friends after the word reciprocity had received some rough handling on the floor of the convention, and it met approval among the delegates.

It is considered now probable that the reciprocity conference will close its sessions by resolving itself into the dual tariff league.

SLIMY TRAIL OF SCANDAL.

Leads to Demand for the Resignation of La Crosse's City Engineer.

LaCrosse, Wis., Aug. 17.—The LaCrosse city council, by a unanimous vote, has demanded the resignation of City Engineer Frank C. Powell, and has given him until August 20 to resign or subject himself to impeachment. Powell is charged with being interested in city contracts and with improper conduct of the engineering department, during a course of years, but the council's action was precipitated by a recent scandal in which several of the leading men and women of LaCrosse were involved, and as a development of which Mrs. Powell committed suicide. A $10,000 damage suit is pending, in which Powell is suing L. P. Philippi, a wealthy business man, for the alienation of his dead wife's affections. Powell refuses to resign and will demand an investigation.

RUSSIANS BADLY WHIPPED.

Attacked Japs, but Were Repulsed With Considerable Loss.

Tokio, Aug. 17.—An official report says: "Early on August 14, in the direction of Chantou, a Russian force consisting of a battalion of infantry, two sections of cavalry, eight field guns and six machine guns attacked our position at Ershiplipa, eight miles north of Changtu, but was immediately repulsed. Our casualties amounted to one, and the Russians lost thirty-five. Simultaneously, three companies of infantry and two squadrons of cavalry attacked us eight miles northwest of Changtu. This attack was repulsed, and at 2:30 o'clock the Russians retreated northward leaving ten dead. The Russians also made a small attack on Wei Huan Paoden, which was repulsed."

Delegates to the trans-Mississippi congress at Portland, Oregon, are split by the proposal to admit Chinese coolies as a means of offsetting the boycott on American goods.

"Ring" Theory Torn to Pieces.

Another Chicago professor—a member too of the University of Chicago—has startled the world, or hopes he will, by a great discovery. He has burst the "ring" theory, but inasmuch as the "ring" he has atomized is not a trust nor a machine, but the ring idea of the evolution of the solar system, except to the students of astronomy, his claim will go greatly for naught at least until he verifies his "wonderful discovery."

The Chicagoian who makes this new discovery, is Prof. R. W. Moulton and of him and his discovery a Chicago dispatch says: LaPlace's "Ring" theory of nebular hypothesis for the creation of the universe, which has stood service for more than a century in the scientific world is torn to pieces by Prof. R. W. Moulton, of the University of Chicago, who believes that he has made the real solution of the evolution of our solar system.

Assisted by Prof. Thos. C. Chamberlain, head of the geology department, Prof. Moulton has been working for more than four years to disprove the "ring" theory, and to set up what he terms the "spiral" theory. The results of their researches were made known yesterday in a lecture on "The Evolution of the Solar System," delivered by Prof. Moulton.

"The 'ring' theory was brought out by LaPlace in 1796, and has been accepted almost universally up to the present time," declared Prof. Moulton.

"The theory Prof. Chamberlain and myself hold is the spiral theory. We believe a second sun—a disturbing sun—moved down near our sun and caused on our sun enormous tides, thousands of miles high. The tides were similar to the tides of the sea. One tide was at the point nearest the disturbing sun and the other tide was on the opposite side. The matter shot towards the disturbing sun. Ordinarily it would have been straight up, but the disturbing sun moved around in an elliptical sort of orbit. Consequently all the masses thrown off were in a spiral direction, one after another, which accounts for the orbits of the planets. The swollen masses were attracted to the large nuclei, which made them into planets."

Morals of Business Life.

Let us hop out of the peck measure and take at least a half bushel survey of things, optimistically observes the New York Mail. The morals of our business life are not to be measured by the rascals who occasionally come to the surface in it any more than the potency of the Christian religion is to be judged by the backsliders from it. Nine hundred and ninety-nine men out of every 1,000 in our New York "financial district" are strictly honest. Can anybody there go out and lay his hand on a knave this afternoon? The passage and payment of myriads of checks every hour, the safe delivery of millions of letters, the very eagerness with which men rush to meet their obligations, all attest to the honesty of the business world, the high moral standards that rule there. Our moral standards are high, not low, today. The huge elephant that nourishes a parasite is too big and too honest to notice it or to know it, even.

The reciprocity idea as a substitute for high tariff is believed to have been badly disfigured if not killed during the big so-called reciprocity conference just held in Chicago. The more popular idea of a dual tariff, it seems, was given birth by the conference as a compromise and, from reports, the substitute is quite popular. The dual tariff idea is a maximum and minimum law which will permit of reciprocal relations with friendly countries by vote of congress. But whether it is dual tariff or reciprocity it means a change and a continued discussion which will yet bring the people relief from the trust barons and the combine imitators.

Opinions as to what will be the outcome of the peace conference at Portsmouth, N. H., are so varied that the reader has only to peruse the reports from the vicinity of the conference and take his choice. There are ideas and contradictions, but on one point the weight of opinion agrees, and that is that peace will result and Russia will take her medicine to get the war declared off. About Saturday or by Monday at the farthest the end of the conference will be reached.

It is now announced via Berlin, that Norway is to be a republic the last hope for a king in Prince Charles having failed to work. Norway has the material to make a republic the spirit of the Norsemen, as manifested in their late vote to divorce Sweden, being of the proper quality. An early accouchment and long life to the Republic of Norway.

The Moroccan "bone" promises to yet create a ruction between France and Germany or the dropping of the bone by one or the other of the would-be possessors. There is a renewal of the snarling recently indulged in between the two countries.

Mr. Roosevelt, it seems to be settled, will strongly touch federal regulation of insurance companies in his next message to congress. This will be one of the good effects of the Equitable Life Assurance Society mess.

The town, county or state which has failed to develop a case of graft, defalcation, etc., is conspicuous as an exception to the very common rule.

A Question of Profit and Shearing.

(Chicago Record-Herald.)

A bulletin from the bureau of statistics reports that the exports of manufactures in the fiscal year just ended amounted to $543,620,297, as against $452,415,921 in the preceding year, and that the growth in exports of manufactures far exceeds the growth of population or the growth of commerce as a whole.

The increase is gratifying, so gratifying in some quarters that it has given a stimulus to the cry "Let well enough alone" as that is raised in behalf of the Dingley tariff. But it will be impossible to check the demand for some form of tariff revision by any such plea. For the appeal must be made to thousands upon thousands of individual citizens who do not share the profits of that half billion of exports, and when you speak to one of these as though he were a half billion richer you evoke but an expression of cynicism.

The response will be the more unsympathetic, too, when it is pointed out that nearly one-fourth of the total is in iron and steel manufactures and nearly one-seventh in mineral oils. Toward these oils or the chief manipulators thereof this same citizen's attitude is hostile on general principles, and when foreign sales of iron and steel are mentioned the immediately thinks of the foreign prices. He has heard that it is the practice to dump American goods on foreign soil and sell them very much below the American rates. He suspects that there is very little patriotism in the high tariff propaganda and is convinced that the American consumer is bled for the benefit of the steel manufacturer.

It is, we should say, very unwise, under the circumstances, to do as certain eastern manufacturers are doing with their endeavor to stir up a sectional issue. When they pit the manufacturing East against the agricultural West they invite an assault upon their premiums and privileges that is likely to cause them a great deal of trouble. Its tendency will be to weaken their hold upon congress and to encourage more radical demands than are now being made. The game is dangerous from their own standpoint, and they ought to have the sense to drop it.

Two More Sent to Jail.

Willie Jones, colored, was sentenced yesterday to four months in the county jail for vagrancy.

Annie Churchill, a negro woman, who stole a dress from a woman, was given two months in jail. Both parties were held over from police court Wednesday and tried by County Judge Lightfoot.

THE FIRST HERE

CAMP YEISER ONCE MORE IS CROWDED WITH STATE SOLDIERS.

Regiment Includes Many Leading and Well-Known Residents of the Metropolis.

The coming to the encampment here of the First regiment from Louisville occurred yesterday, according to schedule. Camp Yeiser is therefore again the scene of much military life.

Accompanying the regiment and as a part of it is the Bardstown Cadets, forty-three strong, under the command of Capt. E. H. Crawford. The cadets make a very attractive addition to the regiment.

Yesterday there were many visitors to the camp to greet the newcomers. Among the guards are many gentlemen well known to many Paducahans, and this fact lends greatly to the pleasures of calling. There, too, are many leading residents of the metropolis in the regiment, and these our people have been pleased to call upon.

The regiment took up the routine work of the encampment yesterday like old soldiers and went through all exercises with credit. The mounts, drill and dress parades were all attractive. The hour for the dress parade has been fixed at 5 p. m., which is half an hour later than the Second regiment observed.

The public has an invitation to witness all the work of the regiment.

Officers of the Regiment.

The first regiment is officered as follows:
Colonel—Biscoe Hindman.
Lieutenant Colonel—James P. Gregory.
Adjutant—Capt. John J. Saunders.
Quartermaster—Capt. Ira S. Burnett.
Commissary—Capt. Joseph M. Huffaker.
Surgeon—Maj. Hugh M. Leavell.
Assistant Surgeons—Capt. Harris Kelly, Capt. Sidney J. Meyers and Lieut. C. L. Nolan.
Judge Advocate—J. Rodman Grubbs.

NO MORE PAPERS FOUND.

H. A. Rose Had No Valuables in Safe of His Late Office.

Mr. Felix Rudolph and W. V. Eaton, administrator and attorney of the H. A. Rose estate, yesterday went to the office of the Kentucky Mill and Lumber Company and looked into the safe to see if any insurance policies or other important papers could be found belonging to the deceased. Several life insurance policies were found, but they had elapsed and were void. No other policies save the ones heretofore reported were discovered. All of the policies found which are in force, including the one for $10,000 in the Western Bank of Louisville, aggregate $29,000. No other papers are likely to be discovered.

Indians Died Game.

Vincennes, Ind., Aug. 17.—Another brilliant contest was pulled off today by the locals and Indians, the former winning by a nose in the fourteenth inning. There were numerous errors by both teams but most of them came at a time when there was no danger. Paducah's new find, Douglas, a left-hander, picked up off the Paducah lots, was in the box and proved he was the right kind of material for league company. He has wide curves and plenty of speed. His performance was remarkable for his first league game. Forney, a catcher, out-fielder and somewhat of a pitcher, did superb work in the box for the locals. The summary is:

KITTY IS DEAD.

Yesterday's Games Ended the Season for the League.

The curtain dropped on the Kitty league with the final inning of yesterday's games. For weeks the league has been shaky on account of small attendance, the fans seeming to have lost all interest. The yellow fever scare and quarantines had their effect at Cairo and Paducah.

National Secretary Farrell notified the secretary of the league that owing to conditions caused by the quarantines the associations could retain their players for another season, which also applies to the Southern league.

There is some talk of Paducah having independent ball, but if it does probably the city league teams will represent Paducah, as negotiations are on for the best players on the Indian club. Toledo or Cincinnati will get Land, Frakes and McClain may be sold to Nashville. It is almost certain these players will go to higher company at once. There are other good players on the team who will get good berths.

The Princeton Democrat says: "The end of the Kitty baseball season, has come. The question whether or not the season could be abbreviated and the players be legally reserved for next season was decided by the national board of arbitration of the baseball league it can close Thursday and re-cinnati.

"H. A. Yeager, vice president of the Kitty league received the following telegram from M. J. Farnbaker, who is in Cincinnati attending the session of the board:

"The National Board of Arbitration rules that under the extraordinary conditions prevailing in the league it can close Thursday and reserve all players for next year."

"The decision not only effects the Kitty league, but the Southern, Cotton States and Texas leagues, which are effected by the prevalence of yellow fever in Louisiana and other parts of the South.

"The various Southern states and cities quarantining against the fever reined baseball throughout that section and no more games could be played during the season.

"As Cairo and Paducah are affected by these quarantines the attendance in both cities was materially affected and the national board was asked to come to the relief of the cities.

"The effect of ruling of the board makes the schedule up to tomorrow legal and says that all players now on the salary roles of the different clubs can be reserved for next year under the terms of the contract. All franchises owned by the cities will still hold good for next season.

"This ruling gives club managers an opportunity to sell what players they care to.

"The decision of the board was received with considerable pleasure by the local management as it leaves the club in good shape. All players will be paid in full and the association can be able to save considerable money."

Paducah won the six-club pennant and Vincennes takes the rag of the four-club. And poor Cairo, well, it wasn't in it.

League ball for Paducah is now an uncertainty. What the fall and spring will bring is too far in the future to prophesy.

Illinoisians Battle Today.

Metropolis and Anna, Ill., will play a game of ball at the local park this afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock. They have played two games and won one each so today's game will decide the supremacy. They are two of the fastest clubs in Southern Illinois. A large number of Metropolis fans will witness the game.

Food for the Fans.

It's all over.
The Kitty certainly had nine lives.

Freeman lost a game for Evansville Wednesday, being hammered for thirteen hits.

It would be interesting for Cairo to publish the amount it spent for players and railroad fares this season.

Diuguid, Brabic and Hayes constituted the battery for Hickman, Ky., Monday, which defeated Dyersburg by the score of 8 to 1.

Wiley Platt won another game for Toledo Wednesday. It made his fourth straight victory. Toledo is working him oftener than Paducah did.

THE POLICE COURT.

Chain Gang "Bird" Gets a Double Sentence for Flying.

Monarch Allen and Joe Allen were fined $3 each for a breach of the peace.

Annie Churchill was held to the county court under a $100 bond on the charge of petty larceny.

Jim Doolin and Reed McCormack were dismissed of the charge of robbing J. K. P. Hayden, of Mayfield, of $5.

Harry Miller, a negro, who escaped last month from the chain gang, was arraigned before the court, he having been recaptured. His sentence was doubled and now he will have to remain on the chain gang for 54 days.

A warrant was issued yesterday against Courtney Long on the charge of letting stock run at large on the streets.

HAS GONE WITH $20,000.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Walter Kraft, the transfer clerk of the Equitable Trust Company, is missing, and it is said by the officials of the company that he has taken $20,000 of the company's money. It is asserted that the trust company will lose nothing, as brokers through whom stock was sold by Kraft will be forced to refund to the company the values of the shares taken by Kraft, and sold to them. The police are looking for Kraft, but have no clue to his whereabouts at the present time.

The I. C. R. R. Won.

Capt. Joe Wood and Mr. John Austin returned last night from Mounds, Ill., where they went to testify in the case of Mary Jane Thixton vs. the I. C. R. R., in a suit for damages for killing her husband by running over him. The road won the case, having it thrown out of court.

NEAR DEATH'S DOOR.

Condition Last Night of Charles Jetton, of Murray.

Chas. Jetton, the attorney, was barely alive last night at Murray. His condition has affected him so that he is delirious most of the time. All hope has been abandoned and it is only a matter of time until the last spark of life is gone. He is about 30 years of age and has a wife and two children. He is an excellent attorney and had a bright future before him.

Mr. Jetton was formerly city attorney of Murray and exceedingly popular.

Tests a Big Engine.

In order to test a big engine, No. 512, before purchasing twenty-five of the locomotives, the I. C. yesterday prepared a train of 1,300 tons and had it pulled to Princeton. The engine is larger than any at present in use by the I. C. and if the test proves satisfactory the road will give an order for the manufacture of 25 engines. They are all to be of the 800 class. If the run is not satisfactory the grade will be cut down from here to Princeton.

NEW BERTH FOR LOOMIS.

Retires as Assistant Secretary of State to Take Diplomatic Post.

Springfield, O., Aug. 17.—Francis B. Loomis, assistant Secretary of State, was shown the report from Lenox, Mass., that Col. W. C. Sanger was to be made assistant secretary of state when Mr. Root assumes the portfolio.

Mr. Loomis made a statement in which he for the first time indicates his intention to resign from the State Department. He also said that upon leaving his present position he expects to be given a diplomatic post, but that at present he has no idea of what court he will be assigned.

NORWAY TO BE A REPUBLIC.

DIED IN MEMPHIS.

Body of Mrs. Will Ellis Brought Here for Burial.

The body of Mrs. Will Ellis, who died at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at her home in Memphis, arrived here at 1:30 o'clock this morning and was carried to the home of her sister, Mrs. Sallie Burroughs, 1107 South Fourth street. Besides a sister and husband she is survived by a brother, Mr. Will Sweeney, of the city. The cause of her death was paralysis.

The funeral will be conducted at 12 o'clock this morning from the St. Frances de Sales church followed by interment at Mt. Carmel cemetery.

The deceased formerly lived here, moving to Memphis about three years ago, where her husband is night foreman of the Illinois Central yards. Mr. Ellis was formerly night foreman of the local I. C. yards.

FUGITIVE MAYOR LOCATED.

Paterson's Embezzling Chief Executive on the Way to Honolulu.

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 17.—Public Prosecutor Emley, of this city, has evidence that Mayor William H. Belcher for whom a warrant for embezzlement has been issued, sailed from San Francisco Saturday, August 5. With the co-operation of the federal and state governments, which Mr. Emley has already asked, he hopes to arrest the fugitive when the steamer touches at Honolulu. The authorities at Honolulu have been notified and are on the lookout for him. While the prosecutor declined to give the details leading up to the location of the missing mayor, he is satisfied that within a week Belcher will be under arrest.

The defalcations with which the mayor is charged are now estimated to amount to about $117,000.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ingram, of 1637 Harrison street, died yesterday of dysentery. It was 17 months old. The funeral will occur at 10 o'clock this morning and interment at Oak Grove.

TWELVE MEN ARE KILLED IN LANDSLIDE.

Heavy Rains Soften the Earth and Tons of Limestone Fall.

Allentown, Pa., Aug. 17.—A mass of limestone, weighing thousands of tons, slid from a side of the quarry of Mill A., of the Lehigh Portland Cement company at Ormrod at noon yesterday, just five minutes before time to quit work. Twenty-seven men were at work in the quarry, which is a thousand feet long, 150 feet across and 100 feet deep.

The heavy rains of the last two days had softened the earth and caused the slide of rock. The fallen mass left a smooth, near perpendicular wall, rising sheer one hundred feet above the bottom of the quarry, while the entire quarry floor was covered with broken, jagged rock. Only nine of the men got away safe, four of whom escaped by running up a mass of rock at the opposite side of the quarry.

The remaining eighteen were huddled in a space ten feet square, twelve of whom were killed and six injured. Two of the latter may die. All of the men are Slavonians, who live in shanties close to the quarry.

PROMISED NEW RESORT.

Company to Buy and Improve the Echo Springs Property.

The land on which Echo Springs, in Livingston county, is located will be converted into a veritable summer resort. The property is owned by Dr. S. B. Caldwell, of this city, but Mr. G. W. Landrum, of Smithland, has been granted a 90 days option on the land. During this time Mr. Landrum will negotiate for a stock company to be organized and purchase the entire tract of land and convert it into a beautiful health resort.

It is the intention to begin early next season and extensively advertise it.

VIND OF ANCIENT METEOR.

Laborers at Williamsburg, N. Y., Find earth What Appears to Be Old Heavenly Visitor.

What seemed to be fragments of a magnetic iron meteor, which may have descended to the earth centuries ago, was discovered the other day by some laborers who are excavating a cellar on Kalkreuthers avenue, at Coraenia street, Williamsburg, N. Y. The discovery was made at a depth of 40 feet, a being necessary to remove a hill 30 feet high before the sidewalk level was reached.

Upon reaching a ten-foot depth in the cellar excavation the men came upon the hard substance, and at first believed it nothing but solid rock. Its extraordinary weight, however, made them examine it more closely, and when they cut into a large piece of the matter they found the interior was a solid mass of iron ore beneath a surface several inches deep of hard, reddish yellow clay.

The search was extended further, and the men came upon a perfectly formed sphere and also a ram's head. Frank N. Schell, the contractor, who will transfer the relics to some museum.

"It appears to me," said Mr. Schell, "that when this meteor fell, perhaps centuries ago, it struck the earth like a shower of hailstones would. That the pieces are all ancient is evident from the hard yellow clay which surrounds each piece."

A NEW LIFE RAFT.

Life-Saving Device of Special Merit to Be Placed on Some of the Warships.

The navy department is providing some of the warships with a new life raft, says a Washington special to the New York World. It consists of an elliptical copper tube somewhat flattened, with air-tight compartments, strengthened by flaps. The tube is incased in cork, wound with canvas and made absolutely watertight. Attached to this float is a rope netting, three feet deep, from which is suspended a wooden slatted bottom. The netting is suspended on the inner side of the float from rings which travel on lashings, so that the bottom rests in the proper position, no matter which side of the float falls upon the water when it is thrown overboard. It does not require to be righted, adjusted or turned about; it is ready for service the moment it strikes the water. Care is attached to the sides of the float to propel it when it is occupied. Enough persons cannot get on this raft to sink it, and, unlike the lifeboat, it cannot capsize or founder, nor, like a raft, go to pieces against the sides of a ship.

The war department is considering the advisability of equipping army transports with the same sort of float.

NAUTICAL SCHOOL AT MANILA.

Naval Officials to Do Everything Possible to Increase Efficiency of the Institution.

Naval officials at Manila intend to do everything possible for the success of the nautical school at that place. This institution was inherited from the Spanish government. It has been in charge of Lieut. Richard H. Townley, United States navy, who was recently detached from that duty and ordered home for completion in certain irregular business relations with army subsistence officers at Manila. Another officer has been placed in charge of the institution.

The school offers a free education to residents of the Philippine Islands in such professional duties as will equip the cadets to perform the duties of masters and officers of merchant vessels. But, while the education is chiefly of a technical and a professional nature, the students also are given broad and liberal instruction in the general branches of mathematics, geography, grammar, English and history. It is contemplated to provide the school with a practice ship to combine practical with theoretical instruction in navigation, seamanship, and the general requirements of the profession for which the students are to be prepared.

Wireless Telegraphy for Warships. Rear Admiral Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment, will point out in his annual report, says a New York Herald dispatch from Washington, the necessity of equipping American men of war with a system of wireless telegraphy. As soon as the appropriation is obtained he will recommend the system to be adopted for the naval service.

Believing that Commander Richardson Clower, naval attaché in London, is deeply occupied with his current work, the rear admiral has recommended to Secretary Long that a wireless telegraph expert be sent to England to represent the navy in the trials of the two new systems developed by Lloyd's agency.

Electricity on New York Central. Electricity for the New York Central railroad, at least to equip its lines from the city's limits to the Grand Central station, is more than a possibility of the near future. It is said that an electric engine, in many of its details unlike anything now in service, has been perfected, and that it will soon have a trial. If its success is as great as is promised, steam power may pass from the Grand Central station before January 1, 1912.

Value of Minnesota Farm Land. Minnesota farm lands have advanced more than 100 per cent. in value during the past seven years.

HELPS FOR HOUSEKEEPERS.

Items of Information Pertaining to Culinary Department—Some Excellent Recipes.

Aluminum is now being used extensively as a material for toilet articles. It has advantages over silver in being light in weight and never tarnishing, while it costs less and can be treated in an equally artistic manner, says Boston Budget.

With a can of deviled ham one can work wonders sometimes if one has a reliable cue to begin operations. For instance, have a small can of it and mix it through two gills of cream whipped stiffly. Add to this, too, a gill of consommé in which is dissolved half an ounce or even less gelatin. Put this into paper cases or into little china molds and set in ice for as long a time as necessary, or longer, and unmold when serving.

Old potatoes should always be placed over the stove in cold water and new potatoes in boiling water. Let the old potatoes stand in ice water for an hour or two after peeling and before cooking.

Episcurean butter is served with grilled meats, etc. To make it, put two tablespoonfuls of fresh butter in a small bowl, and work into it thoroughly with the point of a silver knife a mixture of cayenne, mixed herb powder, minced parsley, lemon juice and mushroom powder. When this is accomplished, set it on the ice, and as soon as solid stamp it into dainty pats. Dot these about the meat in serving.

A delicious sandwich is made by spreading thin slices of bread with equal parts of finely chopped celery and walnut meats, mixed with chopped olives and a little mayonnaise.

To stuff an olive, peel the pulp from the stone spirally, as one peels an apple, being careful not to let it break. Then make a tiny ball of the filling and fold the strip about it.

Too much baking powder is often used in doughnuts and fried cakes, causing the dough to burst out in very irregular bubbles on the edge, which soak fat and make the doughnuts heavy and unshapely.

A pure cream of tartar baking powder makes the dough rise slowly, as the gas is not all liberated simply by moisture. Therefore, if you would have the best results, either put the biscuit into an oven of moderate rather than intense heat, that they may have time to rise before a brown crust is formed, or let them stand ten minutes to rise, and then put them into a hot oven.

Creamed chicken or creamed sweetbreads may take the place of creamed oysters, and are really more wholesome and more easily procured. Parboiled the sweetbreads and pick them apart, to each half allow one can of mushrooms washed and chopped fine. Stir these into a pint of cream sauce. Where chicken is used, to each three pounds of chicken that has been most carefully boiled and cut into dice allow a can of mushrooms and a pint of cream sauce.

FASHIONABLE FEMINITY.

Attractive Features of Waists and Gowns for Summer Wear—A Season of Flounces.

Appropos of revivals, it may not be amiss to hint that a return of the pannier overskirt is persistently threatened, says a fashion authority. A very stunning outfit hat for summer shows a felt crown and a straw brim, both white and trimmed with a soft Persian silk scarf.

White waists are more to the fore than ever, and they have embroidery and lace tucks, and insertions without number. White with a touch of brilliancy lent by Persian embroideries is a conspicuous favorite of the best designers, and daring bits of contrast make a feature of Paris gowns.

Lace flounces are once more the height of fashion, and handsome gowns are again made with two or three of these counted on a satin foundation, for the skirt.

Red silks are to enjoy a great vogue during the coming season. They are either shot with white or have an irregular pattern, are in two shades of red, or are in red and black.

There is a new China silk which is distinguished by perpendicular lines of open work, like drawn work, with a dainty interwoven design. This is especially attractive with yoke and deep mitten-shaped cuffs of lace, the lace threaded with narrow velvet ribbon in any color desired.

This is to be a season of ruffles. Quite a number of the new fancy waists are made with frills down the front, sometimes a single narrow one at the edge of the lap, sometimes a broad ruffle and sometimes two, and facing opposite ways, so full as to form a jabot and compelling the fastening of the bodice.

Keep the Mother Young and Happy. This charming power to throw away for the moment the conditions which keep us from fun ought not to belong exclusively to babies. We took out of our lives with mother's sweet face when we lay cooling in her arms, and she was the happiest of women in consequence. Is it not a pity that through our years of necessary training we should forget the trick of playing with her by the time we are grown? No girl, I am sure, could possibly misinterpret me into meaning that we are to turn some considerations into foolish "idleness." What I really mean is that many matters would be improved if a sense of humor shed its light upon them; and this can best be accomplished by girls.—Helen, in Ladies Home Journal.

A JUNGLE "INFAIR."

IN A COUNTRY in southern Illinois and less than a decade ago there still remained a rural section which the people in the towns designated as the "jungle," a term of contempt handed down from a period when this portion of the county was isolated by impassable roads and covered with dense timbers. The "jungle" fell behind in the march of progress. The farm wagon conveyed the family to church on Sundays when the people on the prairie rode in "spring wagons" or owned buggies. There was one prevailing style of architecture, which is still frequently seen, the square log house with one room and a boxed-up kitchen at the side. The lights streaming through the one small window showed such decorations on the walls as a shotgun and rifle, the horn powder flask and hunting pouch, and trophies of the hunt, while on winter evenings the glowing firelight from the cavernous fireplace threw shadows in and out among the festoons of onions, a dried pumpkin, and "middles" suspended from the rafters.

The house in which Hester Lane was born stood in a small cleared space in the heart of the "jungle." Here she grew to womanhood with no wider experience with the outside world than the weekly walk to the nearest village, and an annual journey to the county seat in fair time.

Her first hardship came to her at the age of six, when she must trudge each day for a mile to the district school. But school days in the "jungle" were not much to be getting the most of the "schooling" because the girls married and had no use for it. There were no bachelor maidens in the "jungle." Marriage was a certainty about which there could be no doubt.

Hester Lane being what the natives of the "jungle" called a "good, smart girl," it was expected she would make a good match. If the Lane home was more picturesque than some of its neighbors it was because Hester's hand trained the morning glories vines over the window in summer and hid the woodpile behind a bank of sturdy hollyhocks with no wider experience with the outside world than the weekly walk to the nearest village, and an annual journey to the county seat in fair time.

Hester had her choice between Squire Blodsoe's son William and "Jim" Gilliam, whose father was the big land owner in the "jungle" and could set off ten acres of young pines to start out with, being a prudent minded young man. Hester took "Jim" and the wedding day was set for October.

Squire Blodsoe, who had "tied the knot" in every marriage ceremony which had taken place in the "jungle" for a decade, was called upon to officiate at the wedding. With much solemnity he took the bride and groom to the altar, and the wedding ceremony was over. The bride and groom were then taken to the house, where the young couple were to be married.

Early as they were, the "infair" guests were arriving before the chairs were reached in a semicircle of the room, and "Jim" and Hester set down near the open door. The company, the older members first, came forward one by one and shook them by the hand and offered their congratulations. There was only one phrase in which the good wishes were conveyed, "I wish you much joy," repeated each neighbor, solemnly, and set down again. Then there was silence in the room, the guests staring blankly at the bride and groom, who relieved their embarrassment by occasional whispers to each other.

When the jests and witty sayings which enlivened the festivities of the "jungle" were exhausted some of the older folks began reminiscing of former wedding occasions. "It's curious how the world does change," said Uncle "Jimmy" Taylor. He and his wife, "Aunt Laura," were among the pioneers of the "jungle." "You young folks who get married and start out in the world nowadays don't know what hard times are. You're lumber to floor your house with, and a cook stove, and you can buy beds and chairs and table already made. It wasn't so 20 years ago, when Laura and I got hitched."

"Laura lived at old Kaskaskia. Her father had come over on the Illinois side from Kentucky, and I, being a river chaps and tired of Tennessee hills, turned up there one day and went to work for him. Seed was all done by hand in those days, and he helped in the corn planting. We fell in love and were married. One day after that I took Laura up behind me on a horse, and with all our worldly goods tied in a bundle we started out to seek our fortunes in a new country. We never stopped till we reached the 'jungle,' and took up a piece of land and built a cabin. I made do the furniture with my own hands, and Laura cooked on the coals in the fireplace. I had to go to St. Louis for almost everything in those days, and Laura staid alone in the wilderness, but the Indians were gone, and there wasn't anything more dangerous in the woods than varmints and wildcats."

"And we didn't have 'infair' dinners in those days," said "Jim's" father. We had turkey and venison, which we shot in the woods, and for cake and pie we had good corn pone baked in the coals on the hearth. 'Jim's' mother didn't have a store-bought wedding dress like Hester here, but good linen woolseye she wore herself and carded the wool for it, too. There wasn't no fine hats in them days; the girl was proud who could get a bit of calico to make a sunbonnet."

There would have been more stories of the good old days when simplicity reigned at wedding feasts, but the men must hurry away for the "house-raising," and before the sun went down the "infair" and "house-raising" were over. The "infair" was a party given on the ten acres were in their place, and a new home was ready in the "jungle."

By the evening "Bill" Blodsoe, the respected editor, to show that he cherished no ill-will, brought his fiddle and there was a dance in the new house, a "house-raising," and the wedding festivities were over. "Jim" and Hester still live in the "jungle," but the little house has been added to it, and a neat picket fence and well-kept orchard and garden evidence the prosperity which is transforming the "jungle" into a progressive farming community, and the "infair" and "house-raising" will soon be only a memory of a bygone era.—Chicago Tribune.

ANIMAL PSYCHOLOGY.

Questions Suggested by the Peculiar Habits of Raccoons.

Opinions of a Southern Observer as to the Ways of the Seemingly Intelligent Little Denizens of the Woods.

Animal psychology is to be studied, I see, in Paris," said an observant citizen recently, according to the New Orleans Times-Democrat, "and the scientists are going to take the subject up in a systematic way. That is a good plan. It is a broad field, and research along these lines will no doubt be productive of much interesting data. Heretofore what scientists have said along this line, and in fact all they have learned, has been of a theoretical nature, and it may be said that animal psychology has not passed beyond the purely experimental stage."

"Darwin came nearer formulating an exact hypothesis than any other scientist when he took up the study of the emotions and the means of expressing them, but even this splendid treatise is lacking in that definite data which would place animal psychology among the so-called exact sciences. But it has occurred to me that a busy, bustling center of population, where one may find so much that is artificial, so much that is out of harmony with the natural order of things, would not be the place to prosecute in a study of this interesting subject. Surroundings a trifle more rugged would seem to afford a better opportunity for the observation of mental processes in the lower order of life, although, of course, much may be learned by the method which has been adopted by European scientists."

"In the southern part of the United States these scientists might find much definite clew to the reasoning methods of animals of the lower order. That little trick of the opossum, for instance, when he feigns death, shows an element of shrewdness which one rarely finds in orders of intelligence supposedly higher. Take the raccoon. Why is it that he will leap up on one side of a tree and then jump as far as he can from the other side? It is a trick. He is trying to fool the dog that is after him by making him believe he is up the tree. The 'coon has practiced this game for so long that no well trained dog will ever howl up a tree until he has circled around it several times to see if the game has not resorted to the usual make-believe."

"Why is it that a 'coon, when the tree is falling under the effect of the hunter's ax, will scamper down the trunk of the tree toward the stump? He has two reasons for doing it. In the first place, unless the dog knows his business, he will rush out in the direction of the falling tree, believing the game will scamper out from the top. In the second place, he reasons that it is safer for body and limb. In either event he is reasoning about the thing. It is a psychological process. Instances have been reported of hunters of where 'coons would leap from the top of falling trees, seemingly knowing that they were pursued by trained dogs, who would hang around the stump until they would scamper down the trunk of the tree. But the rule is to make."

"The point I am trying to make," concluded the observant citizen, "is that the woods are filled with these evidences which might give the scientists a clew to the reasoning methods of animals of the lower order."

REGARDING WHITE ANIMALS.

Seasonal Changes in the Color of Certain Beasts and Birds Quickly Occur.

A polar bear would not have a chance in stalking seals if it were of a darker color. The only black spot about it is the tip of its nose. The sailors who first landed on various unknown arctic shores and bays stated that the bears used to take them for seals, and begin to stalk them at a considerable distance, lying down flat on their bellies in the attitude in which the well-known photograph by Mr. Gambier Bolton shows the old polar bear at the Zoo, and wriggling along in that position until they came to an ex-hummock, when they would get up, peer over to see if the "seals" were alarmed, and wriggle on again. The sailors added that they could always see the black nose when the bear got up near, and vowed that the bear pushed his paw over his muzzle, to hide it. The arctic foxes, the "blue" hare, the ptarmigan, cyper and arctic all undergo the seasonal change to white by an identical process, says the London Spectator. The hair or feathers, as the case might be, lose color and turn white by a spontaneous process. In the foxes and birds the white comes in patches; but the speed of the color change is remarkable. There are many stories of people whose hair has turned white from shock "in a single night." Judging by the birds and foxes, these stories must be true. No one ever sees the process of fading going on. The feather or patch of fur which was brown or smoky gray suddenly whitens. Yet no one has actually seen the color going. The explanation usually given is that it takes place by night. There seems no "half way" tint between the white and the original color.

SWITCH GIRLS THEY LOVE.

A Singular Practice That is Indulged In by Some Young People in Pennsylvania.

At Shamokin, Pa., some queer customs have survived the march of progress among the Poles and Russians. One of these observances is "switching day." It is a favorite day for bashful lovers, for swiftness of limb, rather than eloquence of tongue, captures the bellies of the community, says an eastern exchange.

For days the man has been in training for the run of his life, while the maids adorn corsets and rub liniment on their knees every night are woeing slumber. Finally the morning of "switching day" arrives. The man goes before him all the maidens of his village. He may take his pick. All he must do is to catch and switch and duck with water the one of his choice—the maid whom he would have for his wife. If she is fatter of foot than he and escapes she is free. If the man is beloved of his quarry she seldom gets away, though his feet are clad in leaden shoes.

"Switching day" at Shamokin is Easter Sunday, when all the lads and lassies of the country round about gather at the town for the annual meeting. A girl's starting to run is accepted as a token that she is not averse to her pursuer. The youth's start is accepted as a proposal, and no matter what misfortune may befall his quarry he must provide for her all the days of his future life.

Pathetic indeed was the illustration of this fact in the case of Susan Manbok, who was by all odds the handsomest girl in the Russian colonies for many miles about. She was tall and slender and her eyes were azure blue. She was crowned with golden hair, which grew in dainty ringlets close upon her head. Miss Manbok had more suitors than she could accept, and she was very coy. Fleet of foot, the maid had, since arriving at a marriageable age, passed one "switching day" in safety without the giving of her promise.

Miss Manbok until noon on the recent festival occasion had succeeded in outdistancing all her pursuers. Many were the races she had run, but never had a switch or a pail of water come within reaching distance of her petite form. It was then that Andrew Kobinsky, a shrewd young man, who had purposely waited until Miss Manbok had become fatigued, gave chase. Off started the maid, and after he sped the pursuer.

Down the railroad track they rushed, all unheeding. So excited were both contestants—the man running for a wife, the girl for liberty—that the approach of a train was unnoticed. The engine tooted shrilly and at its blast Miss Manbok, startled, stumbled and fell upon the rail. Both of her legs were cut off below the knees, but the doctors say she will live. And Kobinsky, regarding her being a cripple, declares that he will keep his promise to wed her just as soon as she is able to leave the nurse's care.

LOVE BALLS IN SHAN STATES.

Unique and Interesting Diversions Among Young Folks in Chinese Empire.

Fred W. Carey has recently been traveling through an almost unknown part of the Chinese Shan states, which lie between China proper and Burma. In the account of his journey, which he recently read before the Royal Geographical society, he spoke most favorably of the women of the country, though his opinion of the men is not so flattering, says the New York Sun.

In their face and figure, he says, these Shan resemble the Japanese, and the women are, to say the least, just as unconventional and fascinating. There the resemblance ends. The men are lazy, good-for-nothing fellows, who never work unless they are absolutely obliged to do so. The women toil during the summer in the rice fields and spend their time when at home in weaving cloth and in household duties. They wear a very pretty costume, including a long white petticoat, which is much more becoming than the ugly misshapen trousers of the Chinese woman.

Mr. Carey describes a diversion of the young people which very much interested him. As he passed through the villages the girls often provided themselves with cotton seed balls, which they call love balls, and many times he was pelted with these love missiles. He says they were of course not intended to convey any message to him, but at the festivities which take place during New Year's these colored balls have a very important part to play. On these occasions nothing could be more significant to a young man, for she is very careful to throw it only to the particular young man whom she would like to marry. Thus she expresses her preference for one or another of the suitors. If the man catches the ball, the fact is a sure indication that he wishes to wed the girl, and the engagement is as well as announced at once. But if he misses the ball, the fact indicates that he does not reciprocate the affection the maiden desires to give him, and she must find a lover elsewhere. At all other times the game is simply a mode of flirtation, when the maiden or man who fails to catch the ball must pay a forfeit to the thrower.

THE REVENGE OF ANIMALS.

This Unpleasant Sentiment Seems to Be Well Developed in Some of Them.

A number of authentic anecdotes have been collected by Le Tour du Monde to illustrate the fact that the sentiment of revenge is very well developed in some animals. Everybody knows that elephants, for example have long memories when they are subjected to treatment that hurts their feelings. Capt. Shippe, of the French army, discovered this fact to his sorrow six weeks after he had given an elephant a sandwich sprinkled with cayenne pepper. The captain had almost forgotten the incident when he next saw the animal and attempted to caress him; but the elephant, recognizing the practical joker, suddenly absorbed a quantity of dirty water from a puddle nearby and diffused it over the officer's uniform.

Griffith, the historian, tells a story of two Indian elephants at the stables of Burpore. Water was scarce and in great demand, which gave unusual value to a well that had not dried up. One day, just as a small elephant and its driver were leaving the well, the animal carrying a pail of water, a very large and strong elephant seized the pail and drank the water. The smaller elephant, conscious of his inferior strength, showed no resentment but bided his time. One day he saw his enemy standing broadside by a well. The little fellow suddenly rushed forward with all the energy at his command, butted the big one on the side and tumbled him over into the well.

An Indian missionary tells of an Indian person whom he saw teasing an elephant by pricking his trunk with a pin and then feeding him with lettuce salad which no elephant has any use for. The animal was rather slow in anger and he had not fully decided to be mad till a half hour had elapsed, when he suddenly seized the man's hat from his head, tore it into shreds and flung the fragments into the face of his tormentor.

A British magazine told, awhile ago, of a milkman's dog that was the terror of all smaller canines, as he was a fighter and never missed a chance to mix up in a row. Most of the dogs in the neighborhood bore scars as evidence of his ferocity and prowess. None of them could match him in a fight. The idea finally occurred to them, however, that there is strength in union, and so one night about a dozen of them went to the home of the tormentor and thrashed him within an inch of his life. The milkman found next morning that his dog was nearly dead from the wounds inflicted. When he recovered from the scrimmage he was a changed dog, having wholly lost his taste for fighting.

Sir Andrew Smith, a zoologist, told Darwin that one day he saw a tame baboon in South Africa bespatter with mud an officer, who, all spick and span, was on his way to parade. The officer had frequently teased the animal, which took this effective means of revenge. Parrots also are among the animals that do not soon forget persons who tease or maltreat them. They usually find some way to give some unpleasant moments to those who are unkind to them.

START OF OUR SHOE TRADE.

A Model of the Original Factory to Be Placed on Exhibition in Boston Leather Exposition.

There is to be a shoe and leather exposition in Boston, which continues to be the chief market for boots and shoes in the United States, and one feature of it is to be a reproduction of the original shoe factory in the United States, says the New York Sun.

For many years after the settlement of the American colonies no attempt was made to manufacture boots and shoes for the market, footwear being imported from England and France. This was a period of hand-made shoes exclusively, and in towns large enough to have a local shoemaker, he supplied all the needs of the inhabitants. In towns not large enough to sustain a village cobbler a traveling shoemaker went from place to place, stopping a day or a week at each.

So far as is known, the first shoe factory in Massachusetts was situated in Danvers, not far from the historic house in which Gen. Porter, of revolutionary fame, was born. As early as 1786 various shoemakers were at work carrying, cutting and shoemaking at the original factory in Danvers.

The original shoe factory of Danvers can, it is said, be reproduced without undue expense, and as the boot and shoe interest in Massachusetts is now not only well established, but enjoying an unusual amount of commercial prosperity, with a larger foreign market than it ever had before, it is thought probable that the exhibition will be representative in many respects.

The chief countries to which American shoes are sent are Australia, England, the West Indies, Cape Town, Mexico and Canada.

How to Invest. The man who gets the most out of life is the one who is always looking up, who is determined that everything he does, every investment he makes, shall leave him a little higher up, a little further on. To learn, therefore, how to spend for the higher faculties instead of the lower, so that the meaner qualities, rather than the animal, may be developed, is a problem that confronts us.—Success.

SPOONER'S BUREAU.

BY TOM P. MORGAN.

There is a wreck-down at Spooner's here—a wreck that was formerly a piece of blithe merriment, with a marked tendency to talk and a wren on his head. The wreck in question used to be saluted by his creditors as Mr. Spooner.

Where, before, all was joy, in the highest ecstasy, now is sorrow and woe in large quantities and a dilapidated bureau in remarkably small pieces.

The bureau in question arrived in the Mayflower, so Spooner used to proudly assert. Unfeeling neighbors used to sometimes sneeringly remark that it had more the appearance of having come in the Ark

But neighbors will carp and let their hogs run through your cabbage-patch in wild and bristly freedom, so we will take their sneers at 50 per cent. discount.

How the bureau came there was not the subject that worried Spooner just before the fall of darkness and bumps settled over the happy home. How to get it away was what agitated his mind.

Spooner's only daughter, Cyclonia, had, at least, been so fortunate as to corral a feathered being, who made her his wife—and she was Cyclonia Spooner no longer. It is not the purpose of the writer to distribute the idea that, but for this timely attack of matrimony, Miss Spooner would have become more altitudinous. Far from it! She simply ceased, as a Spooner, to make the menu at three daily repasts look as if attacked by an itinerant cat, and to remark plaintively that woman's mission on earth was not clearly defined around the stairway.

Now that their daughter had succeeded in committing matrimony in the first degree, Mr. and Mrs. Spooner resolved to do the proper and appropriate thing. After much Canticular thought, they decided to present her the sacred bureau, around which clustered such hallowed associations, like those indigenous to an old buffalo robe.

The sacred bureau was located in the second story of the Spooner domicile, in the "spare" bedroom! How to get it downstairs was the question.

The time, several years before, when

Jaggs, the dryman, had raised the pos-terous piece of furniture to the secondstory window, by means of much rope and profanity, was still fresh in Spooner's mind.

He remembered that Jaggs had measured the bureau, which was an enormously developed affair and then had measured the stairway.

"Too wide for the stairs," was Jaggs' verdict.

So without any more fuss he had proceeded to haul it up the side of the house and introduced it through a window.

But Spooner considers himself a peer in the way of concentrated think, to any twolegged dryman that ever wore a hairy horror for a beard and charged 50 pieces of silver for carrying a 50-cent trunk two blocks. He knew, without measuring, that the stairs were wide enough for the bureau. Single-handed and alone he attacked the lugubrious piece of furniture in its own native spare bedroom.
